

The mathematics showcase is from [1].
 Some more complex citations: [1] or Thomas et al. [3] or possibly Concrete Mathematics.
 [3, p. 56]
 [See 1, pp. 45–48]
 Together [3, 1]
 The foundation of our work is described in [2].
 This is a missing citation [NonExistent2024].

References

- [1] Ronald L. Graham, Donald E. Knuth, and Oren Patashnik. Concrete Mathematics. Addison-Wesley, 1995.
- [2] Donald E. Knuth. The TeXbook. Boston, MA, USA: Addison-Wesley, 1984.
- [3] Christine M. Thomas et al. “Series of Mixed Valent Fe(II)Fe(I) Complexes That Model the H(OX) State of [FeFe]Hydrogenase: Redox Properties, Density-Functional Theory Investigation, and Reactivity with Extrinsic CO”. In: Inorg. Chem. 47.15 (2008), pp. 7009–7024. DOI: 10.1021/ic800654a.